

Credit for Prior Learning

NDSU recognizes the valuable knowledge and skills students have attained through exams, certifications, workforce experience, military service, volunteer activities, and life experiences. Students may receive college credit for college level learning outside that has occurred outside of a college or university setting.