The M.S. in Dietetics program prepares registered dietitians to practice at an advanced level or pursue doctoral study. The Interactive Distance Education Alliance (<https://www.idea.edu/programs/>) program in Dietetics provides opportunities for registered dietitians and registration-eligible dietetic graduates to integrate and apply principles from the biomedical sciences, human behavior, and management to design and lead effective food and nutrition programs in a variety of settings. This program is fully online.

In a multi-institution degree program, students (must be registered dietitians or registration-eligible dietetic graduates):

1. Apply and are admitted to one university;
2. Enroll in all courses at that university; and
3. Graduate or receive a certificate from that university.
