

Military and Veteran Certification

The Military and Veterans Certification Office at North Dakota State University (NDSU) serves as a dedicated resource for military-affiliated students, including veterans, active-duty service members, reservists, National Guard members, and their dependents. The office assists with the certification of education benefits through the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs and other military education programs. In addition to benefit processing, the office provides guidance on eligibility, academic progress requirements, and campus resources tailored to the unique needs of military-affiliated students. Committed to fostering student success, the office collaborates closely with academic departments and support services to ensure a smooth transition to university life and continued progress toward educational goals.
